Rhapsody Strategies Inc. Celebrates its First Anniversary in Western Canada By Launching The Rhapsody Institute in Calgary

OTTAWA, ON – November 3, 2015 – Rhapsody Strategies Inc. is pleased to celebrate its first anniversary in Calgary. To mark the occasion, Rhapsody is bringing The Rhapsody Institute to Calgary with events on November 10th and 12th, 2015. Steve Osmond, Regional Director of Western Canada and business coach for Rhapsody Strategies, will be leading these events.

“I’m excited to introduce the Institute’s incredible programs here in Calgary,” says Osmond. “As a professional and business coach, I know the immediate and sustainable impact these programs have on leaders and their organizations.”

Joining Steve for these events in Calgary will be Eric Deschamps, General Manager and Lead Coach at Rhapsody Strategies. “We’re excited to launch The Rhapsody Institute in Calgary,” says Deschamps. “The Institute has been enthusiastically received everywhere its programs have been delivered – in Canada, the United States and Australia – and we’re thrilled to have Steve launch these interactive and dynamic programs on the first anniversary of Rhapsody Strategies in Western Canada.”

The Rhapsody Institute features programs and courses that challenge how business owners think, identifies obstacles that are tripping them up, and shows how to create a new vision that is compelling and powerful. Attendees leave with skills that will make an immediate, lasting and powerful change. The programs being featured with the launch of the Institute include:

- Business Epics is Calgary’s new ‘no-read’ book club. Business leaders know they need to learn and grow, but with so many competing priorities clamoring for their time and attention, personal growth and development often take a back seat. Business Epics focuses on the best books that have shaped business and leadership in a significant way. Every month, like-minded leaders gather for a two-hour breakfast meeting where Steve Osmond distills the core message of one of these Business Epics, and focuses on how leaders can apply that message to their unique situation.
- Catalyst Series provide the tools business leaders need to accelerate change. These 2-3 hour immersive workshops are designed to ignite new thinking, energy, and action in crucial areas of a business leader’s life and organization. It’s been said that employees are a company’s most important asset, and can make or break a business. Yet many leaders struggle with staff members that are phoning it in and not reaching their full potential. Team Dynamics: How to Fast Track Your Staff to Maximum Performance is a workshop that provides strategies for leaders to coach and transform their employees into a highly engaged and committed team, and help their businesses reach the next level.

Rhapsody Strategies operates across Canada and the United States providing executives, business owners and professionals with a comprehensive set of services to help them achieve the objectives they have not been able to reach.
